What is It

To safeguard means to protect people's health, well-being, and human rights, and enable them to live free from harm, abuse, and neglect.

What is the significance of the health-related laws in protecting people's health?

Law/Policy	Importance/Significance
The Consumer Act of the Philippines (RA 7395)	Protects the people against hazards to health and safety, and deceptive and unfair sales acts and practices. In this light, the policy mandates for information dissemination and education to facilitate sound choice and proper exercise of rights by the consumer.
Traditional and Alternative Medicine Act of 1997 (RA 8423)	Provides for the improvement of quality and delivery of healthcare services in the country through the development of traditional and alternative healthcare and its integration into the national healthcare system.
Responsible Parenthood and Reproductive Health Act (RA 10354)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• For married couples Family planning is a preparation for responsible parenthood. When a couple agrees to practice this, they will only have the number of children they can afford to support. Therefore, there will be no unwanted pregnancy for the couple. They will still have enough time to enjoy each other's company without having too many children to attend to.</li> <li>• For the mother Family planning helps the mother maintain good health and gives her sufficient time between pregnancies to recover from the strain of children. Taking a two-to three-year interval for delivery helps a mother to recover and regain health. It gives her the freedom to have children only when she wants them and only when she is ready for them. It also gives her opportunity to attend her own needs.</li> <li>• For the children Through family planning, the children get quality time and attention from their parents and they are better taken care of. The parents could meet the basic needs of the children, which are food, clothing, and shelter. In addition, children can receive the health care that they need. The parents can provide them with a good education. More importantly, children will be showered with love and will receive proper attention from their parents.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• For the father Family planning helps the father shoulder his responsibility and enables him to give his children equal attention. It also lightens the burden in supporting his family as there are only a few to support. It gives his family a better home, education, and good future, thus, keeping the family happy and contented.</li> <li>• For the community Family planning improves the economic and social status of the community. It can provide a peaceful, orderly, and self-sustaining community with fewer problems, like juvenile delinquency. The community will be a healthy place to live in with more land, open spaces between houses, playground, sanitation, and less pollution. Peace and order are of paramount importance in every community.</li> <li>• For the country, and the world With the rapid growth of population in the country and the world, resources are being used more rapidly, health problems also worsen as modern medicine is not able to keep pace with the health crisis, population growth has been a source of numerous economic problems. By observing family planning for the community, the use of resources like land, food, and fuel can be reduced and sanitation control would be effective. There would be fewer countries suffering from starvation brought about by population explosion.</li> </ul>
The Philippine AIDS Prevention and Control Act of 1998 (RA 8504)	Promotes public awareness about the following issues related to HIV/AIDS: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Causes</li> <li>2. Modes of transmission</li> <li>3. Consequences</li> <li>4. Means of prevention and control</li> </ol> The act also provides for education and information dissemination in various institutions and agencies, safe practices and procedures (testing, screening, and counseling) in health organizations and associations, monitoring of cases with confidentiality, and programs for anti-discriminatory acts (in workplace, hospitals, and other public institutions).
National Blood Services Act of 1994 (RA 7719)	a) promotes and encourages voluntary blood donation by the citizenry and to instill public consciousness of the principle that blood donation is a humanitarian act; b) lays down the legal principle that the provision of blood for transfusion is a professional medical service and not a sale of a commodity; c) provides adequate, safe, affordable and equitable distribution of supply of blood and blood products;

	d) informs the public of the need for voluntary blood donation to curb the hazards caused by the commercial sale of blood; e) teaches the benefits and rationale of voluntary blood donation in the existing health subjects of the formal education system in all public and private schools, in the elementary, high school and college levels as well as the non-formal education system; f) to mandate the Department of Health to establish and organize a National Blood Transfusion Service Network in order to rationalize and improve the provision of adequate and safe supply of blood; g) provides for adequate assistance to institutions promoting voluntary blood donation and providing non-profit blood services; h) requires all blood collection units and blood banks/centers to operate on a non-profit basis; i) establishes scientific and professional standards for the operation of blood collection units and blood banks/centers in the Philippines; j) regulates and ensures the safety of all activities related to the collection, storage and banking of blood; and k) requires upgrading of blood banks/centers to include preventive services and education to control spread of blood transfusion transmissible diseases.
Cybercrime Prevention Act of 2012 (RA 10175)	Punishes content-related offenses such as cybersex, child pornography and libel which may be committed through a computer system. It also penalizes unsolicited commercial communication or content that advertises or sells products or services.

What government agencies are tasked to implement and enforce the law?

	1. Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>➤ Advances consumer rights and welfare</li> </ul>
